Le Chalet Zannier, Megève, France

An winter escape to the slopes becomes an exceptional once-in-a-lifetime experience when you find the ultimate mountain retreat...

Le Chalet Zannier is a private retreat but with all the five-star services and facilities of a top-notch hotel – including an award-winning restaurant, La Ferme de Mon Père, a spa with heated pool and hammam and Bentley-driving chauffeurs to take you into Megève town or to and from Geneva airport. This is the Zannier family's first foray into the hospitality business, but their fashion-industry experience and viticulture know-how translates into an 'hotel' that stands out for its refined aesthetic. Here it is all about simple, understated but exceptional luxury: the incredible house wines from the family vineyards, the sophistication of owner Arnaud Zannier's playlist, the generous bottles of Aesop beside your bathtub with a view over Mont Blanc, the knitted Uggs for guests. With 43 members of (beautiful) staff, there is always someone on hand to draw your fire, set up a deck chair on your private terrace, talk you through the cheese board or deliver caviar to your room at midnight. The 12 rooms and self-contained suites (which are more like apartments) can be booked individually or as an exclusive rental for 28 – perfect for a wedding with the private chapel adjacent.
